

I'M SORRY

I'm too tired to take care of all the empty bottles
I don't mind the broken ashtray on the floor.

Arguments are still raising to the ceiling
I leave them in the room, cause I can't reach them anymore.

I'm too tired to read all your pathetic letters
I can only hear you talking when you're not talking anymore.

And I'm walking away
I am walking away – from you.

I'm sorry, so sorry – for leaving you.
I'm writing my story – and changed names too.
The reason I don't kiss you – is your fault too.
Believe me, I miss you – but there is something new.

You say leaving is a thing for desperate people
But you don't know what desperate people are looking for.

And I'm walking away
I am walking away – from you.

I'm sorry, so sorry – for leaving you.
I'm writing my story – and changed names too.
The reason I don't kiss you – is your fault too.
Believe me, I miss you – but there is something new.
